The Sweetest Summer Festival started in May with parties and performances around the island. The hills are literally alive with the sound of music – soca and calypso – during this 11-week festival. On August 1, 2011 the festival culminates with an island-wide collective celebration featuring costume-clad Barbadians and visitors parading down the road to the beat of steel pan drums and the rhythms of the island. Crop Over has deep historic and cultural roots celebrating the end of the sugar cane season with a vibrant extravaganza of music and masquerade, heritage and culture.

Rihanna participated at this year's final event, Grand Kadooment, by dancing on 'de road' in a colourful costume.
